Richard Dinkel is the Controller and Chief Accounting Officer for Koch Industries, Inc., a global operating, trading, and investment company. The company has a presence in 60 countries, employs 70,000 people, and operates in diverse industries including petroleum and chemical refining, consumer products, building products, packaging, paper, polymers, resins, nitrogen based fertilizers, industrial equipment manufacturing, and commodity trading. As Controller of Koch, Richard has responsibility for all aspects of the company’s accounting including financial reporting, accounting policy, audit, and internal controls.

Prior to his current role Richard was Controller in Flint Hills Resources. His responsibilities included overseeing the accounting and finance operations of a large petroleum refining and chemical manufacturing company including financial reporting, mid and back office trading accounting, internal controls, and credit risk management.

Richard earned his bachelor’s degree in Accounting from Wichita State University. He is a Certified Public Accountant and member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. Richard serves on the board of directors of Flint Hills Resources, Koch Business Solutions, the Wichita Salvation Army, the Wichita State University School of Accountancy Advisory Council, and the Financial Accounting Standards Advisory Council (FASAC). Richard has 20 years of experience in accounting and finance.

Richard has been married to his wife, Kim, for 20 years and they have two children: Eric 16, and Joshua 10.