Welcome to spring semester! The days are getting longer and spring break has come and gone. You'll be happy to know that enrollment in the college of education has increased by more than 8% over spring semester 2007.

From time to time this newsletter will be sent to education students to provide updates regarding events and opportunities within the college. I encourage students to attend our open house in April and to explore all the exciting options available to you.

Please take a look at the power point presentation developed by the department of Counseling, Educational and School Psychology featuring the great career opportunities for students who earn an MEd in Educational Psychology.

Message from the dean

Iorio will welcome guests on the west esplanade and introduce speakers, President Beggs, Provost Miller and our featured speaker, Rob Jones, vice president of campus planning, restoration and development for the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation.

Make plans to attend college of education open house

Volunteers from a local firm, WDM Architects, will provide guided tours of Corbin Education Center. WDM Executive Vice President Craig Rhodes will present “Frank Lloyd Wright and Kansas: Six decades of artistic interaction.” Displays, demonstrations and activities by students and faculty of various programs will take place concurrently in both Corbin and Heskett Center.

NCATE visit

Many work is to be done between now and October 2009 when the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education site team visits WSU. A team of eight to 10 representatives from other universities will meet with faculty, staff and students for this regularly scheduled visit. WSU College of Education has received national accreditation for 54 years.

An Invitation from KNEA - SP

Kansas National Education Association-Student Program is an organization for teacher education majors. We look for ways to bring students together and offer personal, one-on-one contact with them.

One of our goals is for our students to be involved in community service projects that help us make differences in the lives of the larger community. We also learn to become political activists, learning how to lobby for issues that will affect us, as an organization and our future learning communities.

We invite you to become part of our community by joining.

Contact: gwen.mukes@wichita.edu.
Masters Degree in Educational Psychology at Wichita State University

What it can lead to!

Potential Career Opportunities

Masters in Educational Psychology
- General Areas of Expertise

Program Evaluation Skills
Human Development
Measurement Skills
Human Learning
Research Skills
Enhance your present career

- Improve your skills
- Become a leader among your peers
- Increase your earning potential

Educational Psychology Masters

Who Can Benefit?
Enhance your present career!

- Teachers
- Administrators
- Nurses
- Counselors
- Social workers
- Trainers
Employment Opportunities

- Community College instructor
- Instructional software development
- Research associate
- Research project manager
- Personnel evaluation
- Consultantships

Types of Consultantships

- Instructional design
- In-service training
- Curriculum development
- Assessment development
- Grant writing
- Program evaluation
- Data management
Potential Places of Employment

- Public and private schools
- Businesses
- Testing and assessment centers
- Human development centers
- Medical centers
- U.S. Department of Education

Potential Places of Employment

- Military (all branches)
- Private foundations
- Non-profit organizations
- Industry
- School districts
- Community Colleges and Universities
Need for psychological expertise:

- Jobs projected to be plentiful for years to come

- Projected as one of the fastest growing fields until at least 2014
  - US Dept. of Labor, 2006

Educational Psychology MEd
A foundation for related advanced degrees

- School Psychology, EdS
- Educational Psychology, PhD or EdD
- Curriculum and Instruction, PhD or EdD
- Educational Leadership, PhD or EdD
- Counseling, PhD or EdD
- Linguistics, PhD or EdD, etc.
Wichita State University offers

- Educational Psychology MEd degree
  marlene.schommer-aikins@wichita.edu
- School Psychology EdS degree
  nancy.mckellar@wichita.edu

For more information contact:
Counseling, Educational and School Psychology Department
320 Hubbard Hall
316-978-3326

Your Life In The Future

- Think about your future now.
- A graduate degree can let you achieve dreams that you have not yet imagined.