Here we are at the end of October! Can you believe how fast this year is going? The leaves are turning and we are finally getting some cooler weather. This is one of my favorite times of the year! I really missed having the Fall Festival at the Goering’s farm this year but I look forward to it even more next year! If we all work together, we can make it happen! I especially want to thank Celia Goering, Barbara Knapp and Virginia Murphey for volunteering to be the hostesses, and Lauren May for getting the word out of the cancellation. I would also like to thank all the members who signed up to attend, however, we need to have more cooperation from all of our members, if we are to be successful as an organization. So, let’s get geared up for the remainder of 2015-2016, and make a personal commitment to attend the rest of the activities that have been planned for our enjoyment!
