Concerns/Dismissal: If concerns arise regarding the student’s performance or behavior as an intern, the policies and procedures specified in the concern/dismissal policy will be utilized to address the situation.

Definition of Credit Hours: University policy mandates an expectation that students will spend, for each credit hour, a minimum of 45 hours over the length of the course for instruction, preparation/studying, or other course-related activities. For this course, students are required to devote a minimum of 810 hours to their internship assignment in order to earn 6 credit hours.

Revised: 2013 Spring Semester
Academic Honesty: A standard of academic honesty, fairly applied to all students, is essential to a learning environment. Students who compromise the integrity of the classroom are subject to disciplinary action by their instructor, their department, their college and/or the University. Violations of classroom standards of academic honesty include, but are not limited to:

a. Cheating in any form, whether in formal examinations or elsewhere.
b. Using or submitting the work of others as one's own original work without assigning proper credit to the source.
c. Misrepresentation of any work done in or out of the classroom or in preparation for class.
d. Falsification, forgery or alteration of any documents pertaining to academic records.
e. Colluding with others in an effort to obtain a grade or credit not truly reflective of what the student knows or has learned.

Students violating such standards must accept the consequences and appropriately assessed penalties, which may include reprimand, a failing grade, or suspension or dismissal from an academic program or the University. Students accused of abridging a standard of academic honesty will be provided with mechanisms for review and appeal of decisions regarding allegations of academic misconduct.

Special Needs: If you have a physical, perceptual, psychiatric/emotional, medical, or learning disability that may impact your ability to carry out assigned course work, contact the Office of Disability Services (ODS), Grace Wilkie Annex, room 173. (Voice/TDD 978-3309). ODS will review your concerns, confirm your disability, and determine, with you, what accommodations are necessary. All information and documentation of your disability is confidential and will not be released by ODS without your written permission.

Shocker Alert System: SAS facilitates electronic emergency notification to individual faculty, staff, and students within the University community are delivered through mass e-mail and cell phone text messaging. See www.wichita.edu/alert to elect to opt-in to SAS to receive emergency notification by text message.
