Wichita State teacher education students who choose to student teach in an international setting will:

- Develop cross-cultural competencies that will enhance professional teaching abilities.
- Have an opportunity to apply teaching strategies in a cross-cultural setting.
- Experience another culture first hand and learn to adapt to new situations and diverse learners.
- Embrace a global perspective as a framework for teaching.

Why travel abroad?

Benefits to student teachers

Frequently Asked Questions:

Q: Do I need to complete a student teaching application for local placement?
- Yes. In the event that an overseas assignment is not accepted or you change your mind, a local placement will be processed.

Q: What is the cost of such a venture?
- The WSU student is responsible for ALL expenses: travel, supervision, WSU tuition, and room/board. In many situations, student lodging can be arranged for a minimal cost.

Q: How do I find more information on where I can teach?
- The WSU COE website contains general information regarding site options. Options include Department of Defense Dependent Schools (DoDDS) or approved schools in an international setting. Additional international education information is available on the following web pages: www.odedodea.edu/pers/employment and www.teachersoverseas.org. Recent teacher education students have completed their student teaching experiences in Italy, Germany and Korea.

Q: Are there special requirements involved with the selection of a school?
- Yes. The selected school must be accredited with a state-side education agency (i.e., NCATE), and the Cooperating Teacher must have a current license from an accredited U.S. institution of higher education.
