Music Associates at Wichita State University

If you want to enhance the educational experience of music students at WSU, Music Associates is for you! Since 1993, Music Associates has underwritten opportunities for WSU School of Music students that aren’t typically funded through any tax supported sources. These opportunities would not be possible without your support!

Projects funded by Music Associates:

- Awarded scholarships and graduate assistantships to 32 students last year.
- Provided funding for master classes conducted by renowned operatic star, Sam Ramey, prior to his appointment to the WSU faculty. (See brochure cover photo.)
- Helped fund the performance of two students at the Winner’s Recital, American Protégé International Piano Competition, held at New York’s Carnegie Hall
- Funded a trip for seven students and one faculty member to the 2014 Music Teachers National Association conference in Anaheim, CA.
- Provided lead gift for Symphonic Wind Ensemble and the WSU Symphony Orchestra to perform at Carnegie Hall in 2013. Over 100 graduate and undergraduate students participated.

Capital Investments underwritten by Music Associates:

- Purchased a new rehearsal piano for the Fine Arts Center
- Purchased a new French horn for WSU student ensemble performances.
- Refurbished two grand pianos in Miller Recital Hall and Wiedemann

Your gift, pooled with gifts from other members, helps to fund big projects that would not happen without support from Music Associates.

Help Music accomplish big things!

- Create scholarships for talented and deserving musicians
- Underwrite student and faculty attendance at worldwide conferences, workshops and performances.
- Bring renowned concert artists and teachers to WSU to conduct master classes.

“It made my day when I found out that I had been awarded a Music Associates scholarship... and I hope one day I might be able to offer similar support to music students myself. One of the things I value most about studying music at WSU is the way it constantly pushes me outside of my comfort zone and challenges me to grow, both as a musician and as an individual.”

—Sara Jo Luecke, WSU School of Music Special Education major
Expand your music experience

The executive board of Music Associates invites you to join it in supporting music at Wichita State University. We are proud to uphold a tradition of cultural excellence, both on stage and in the classroom. By combining our gifts, we help develop the musicians and performers who will take the arts to all parts of our world, for generations to come.
