What is Breast Cancer?

Cancer is a disease in which cells become abnormal and form more cells in an uncontrolled way. The cancer cells may form a mass called a tumor. (Note: Not all tumors are cancer.) They may also invade nearby tissue and spread to lymph nodes and other parts of the body. The most common types of breast cancer are:

- Ductal carcinoma – Cancer that begins in the ducts and grows into surrounding tissues. About 8 in 10 breast cancers are this type.

- Lobular carcinoma – Cancer that begins in lobules and grows into surrounding tissues. About 1 in 10 breast cancers are this type.

Breast cancer in men is rare. It happens most often to men who are older than 60. Men with breast cancer usually have lumps that can be felt.

Screenings for breast problems includes mammography, clinical breast exams, and breast self-awareness. Breast self-awareness is important, however, you should still check with your doctor about any changes you notice. With routine screenings, breast cancer often can be found at an early stage, before the cancer has spread. Depending on factors such as family history and your general health, your doctor may recommend a mammogram before age 40 or more often.

Quarter 4 EAP Holiday Health Campaign

October 25th @ 3pm - Happiness: A Key to Life’s Satisfaction
November 15th @ 3pm - Navigating Life’s Big Decisions
December 21st @ 3pm - Living Simply: Simplify Your Life
Happiness: A Key to Life’s Satisfaction

Why do some people seem happy and others just seem miserable all the time? Science suggests that each person has a range in their capacity to experience happiness and that range is different for each person. However, it is possible to live our lives in the upper end of that range if we apply ourselves and follow certain principles. There is no one key to happiness but a set of principles that are critical to follow. This training incorporates a brief happiness questionnaire, a description of the various factors associated with happiness and concludes with a substantive discussion of specific ways to increase your happiness potential. https://register.gotowebinar.com/register/610026020700807171

If you cannot attend at the scheduled time but are interested, register and a recording will be sent to you via email following the webinar. Or if you only have 5-10 min check out the On-Demand Trainings at www.guidanceresources.com (Company ID: SOKEAP). These short training modules include fun, interactive features, and help you build practical skills to deal with real-life challenges.
